

Adventure Cabaret

Floss News Alert #1

Researchers at the University of the Upper Peninsula have discovered that eating a healthy diet is strongly correlated with being healthy.

This has been a Floss News Alert!

Floss News Alert #2

Researchers in sociology at the University of California at Berkeley say they have determined precisely when racism will end. Their conclusion is that racism will come to a sudden and final end just as soon as the supply of idiots runs out.

This has been a Floss News Alert!

Floss News Alert #3

Researchers in biology at the University of New Amsterdam have discovered that as bacteria become more educated they tend to have somewhat fewer baby bacteria, but still multiply until all their available resources are used up, despite their education.

This has been a Floss News Alert!

Floss News Alert #4

Researchers in sociology at the University of the Indian Ocean report that a major study of all countries of the world has concluded that they all suck, and all behave horribly. The common factor in all cases appears to be...human beings.

This has been a Floss News Alert!

Floss News Alert #5

Researchers in human sexuality at the University of New Amsterdam have discovered conclusive evidence that there are actually seven human sexes, but that only five of them really matter.

This has been a Floss News Alert!

Floss News Alert #6

Researchers in paleontological sexology at the University of Staten Island claim that while human beings have sex for mere minutes at a time, dinosaurs had sex for millions of years.

This has been a Floss News Alert!